

AMINO MAX

Introduction

Like any organism plant also need certain components for normal growth & development. Proteins are basic component of all living cell and Amino Acids are the building blocks of it. Proteins catalyze all most all the reactions in living cells and virtually they control all cellular process. It is evident that Amino Acids are very important for normal plant growth.

Keeping view the importance of Amino Acids in plant metabolism Agrisol has formulated an organic high protein plant supplement "AMINO MAX", made through fermentation of whole fish at low temperature that prevents loss of vital nutrients. It contains essential, proteins, wide range of amino acids, Humic Acids, Calcium and other plants extracts from various organic sources. AMINO MAX immediately provides much needed energy and boost plant growth. It can be used in foliar, drip or drench applications.

Benefits

- Increases rate of photosynthesis enabling plant to perform its vital functions in an optimal manner.
- Helps in maintaining high energy levels in crops during vital stages of early root development, flowering and fruiting.
